Quick Start Guide

ClinicalKey Student is an interactive education platform that gives you access to hundreds of acclaimed textbooks and enhances your learning by allowing you to create your own quizzes and test yourself on key concepts. Follow these simple steps to get started.

1. Launch ClinicalKey Student
   - Click the ClinicalKey Student link within your learning management system [institution to provide details]
   - When prompted, confirm the pre-populated details including your name and email address
   - Please be aware that you will still need to create a unique ClinicalKey Student password to access your account directly from clinicalkey.com/student and to use the Bookshelf app (see reverse for further details)

2. Ready, test, go!
   - Start creating a test by first selecting a topic area
   - Filter by systems or disciplines and select one or multiple subjects
   - Select the range of questions you want to test on
   - Click 'Start my Test'
3 How did you do?

- View the key concepts that you should focus your revision on based on your incorrect answers
- Click the magnifying glass icon next to a specific key concept to be directed to related content

Tip: Study mode is on by default and explains why each answer is right or wrong as you work through the assessment

Tip: If you select the 'Not Sure' button when answering a question, this will allow you to retake that specific question later

Tip: After completing your test, you can retake the incorrect questions immediately or plan to retake them later

4 Build your own bookshelf

- Add a book to Bookshelf by clicking on "Launch Bookshelf" from inside a chapter of a book
- Make notes and highlight important information inside text
- Share your notes with other students
- Build your own flashcards to quiz yourself on key concepts and review later

Tip: Download the ClinicalKey Student Bookshelf app from within your institution's network. To create your unique password, click 'Sign in' and then 'Register here' to enter your details
